

AMERIND Risk

Tribes Protecting Tribes

January 2017

HONOR ROLL

TBJ HONOR ROLL

Indian Country's best and brightest companies

Indian Country has some remarkable individually owned and tribally owned businesses. As the leading 21st-century voice for business investment and profitable economic development opportunities in Indian Country, TBJ wants to highlight the best and brightest companies doing business in Indian Country. We are featuring the companies that made the TBJ Honor Roll.

ing the risk to cover tribal housing authority claims could keep liability costs down and provide coverage catered to tribal needs. AMERIND's motto is "Tribes Protecting Tribes."

AMERIND Risk continues to be the only 100 percent, tribally-owned insurance provider creating affordable and sustainable insurance products and services for Indian Country. The company provides liability, property coverage, workers' compensation and tribal employee benefits. Each package is tailored to individual tribes and tribal businesses after assessing safety, while honoring culture and tradition.

AMERIND Risk's Tribal Governments and Businesses coverage protects property and liability for tribal governments and business enterprises located in Indian Country.

AMERIND Risk's Tribal Workers' Compensation plan is the tribal alternative to state workers' compensation. AMERIND's plans help tribes meet state law requirements, but safeguard tribal sovereignty.

AMERIND Risk

FOUNDED: 1986

LOCATION: Santa Ana Pueblo, New Mexico

NUMBER OF EMPLOYEES: 54

WEBSITE: amerindrisk.org

AMERIND Risk was established in 1986 during an insurance crisis.

More than 400 tribes contributed $18 million after realizing that shar-